

Blasialm-Rundweg

HIKING TOUR

Alm-Rundweg - Shady circular trail on forest roads from the hiking car park Austraße, Blasialm, Geigelstein car park, back to Schlechinger Au

Starting point

Parking Schlechinger Au

 distance:
7.9 kilometres

 maximum altitude:
926 meters

 altitude difference:
479 ascending

Location

Slechching

 duration:
02:45 hours

 minimum altitude: 588 meters

 altitude difference:
479 descending

Alpine pasture circular route Possibility to stop off: none Special features: quiet, secluded tour far away from the hustle and bustle Description: From the Austraße hiking car park, take a forest path towards Haidenholzalm. At the first major crossroads, turn left towards Ettenhausen. 200 m above is the Blasialm, which gave this circular route its name. Continuing on, there is a shortcut to Ettenhausen or Schleching via the "Knoglerlahnersteig", a narrow serpentine path, until signs point the way towards Mühlau or the Austraße hiking car park. However, if you follow the forest road to the Geigelstein car park with information boards for hiking destinations and circular routes and walk a short distance on the road towards Ettenhausen, the path branches off to the left towards the starting point at the Austraße hiking car park. A central hiking pin checkpoints: Blasialm

