Egerndach Church - Egerndach Moor - Egerndach Church

The signposted circular route starts at the Egerndach church . From there you walk in the direction of the Gasthof Ott. Turn right here and the initially tarred path takes you into the Egerndach moor . The moor circular route is intended to be an opportunity for young and old to experience nature again and get to know it better. Children's questions are also answered in an easy-to-understand manner and play stations invite you to explore. At various stations you will receive interesting information about the moor, but also about honey bees and the forest, for example. In quiet places you have the opportunity to relax and take in nature. About halfway along the tour you will pass the Tiroler Ache river . Because it is flat and has no significant incline, the path is also ideal for older people or small children and is suitable for pushchairs. Please note that the path is not cleared or gritted in winter.
