From the town hall, turn right to the kindergarten , then turn right onto Voglaicher Straße to Voglaich (in the adjoining forest: death boards and a picture of St. Francis on a tree nearby).

Via the factory canal to Güßhübel (short connection straight ahead at the Knallergut estate - open log building at the end of the 16th century - past across the meadow to the St. Sebastian Chapel - to Watzing) - right towards Milzham - in Frohnholzen left and continue straight along the street Ellham .

At Reut, go straight under the railway underpass to Hof (Rupertwinkler Farm Museum), then cross the district road and turn left back to Kirchanschöring.

Luise Rinser

Luise Rinser (1911-2002) is a German writer . She lived in Kirchanschöring in Chiemgau from 1945 to 1949 . Before that, she was in the women's prison in Traunstein for two months after she was denounced for undermining military strength. Kirchanschöring has dedicated the Luise Rinser circular route to her.

A thematically appropriate highlight on the way is the book hut at Knallerhof in Güßhübel.
