Urschlau - Bergwallerlebniszentrum - Röthelmoos Gorge - Röthelmoos-Klause - Röthelmoos

The starting point for this tour is the Urschlau car park (767m), at the very back of the Brander Tal near Ruhpolding. There is also a regular bus service here. Directly above the turning point is the small pilgrimage church of Maria Schnee with the Baroque altar from 1667, which is well worth seeing. Continue into the valley and turn left uphill at the fork in the road. After a short steep section, the forest road flattens out again, until an impressive view down into the Röthelmoos Gorge opens up at the striking left-hand bend. You pass the old Röthelmoos hermitage from the time of the Holz-Trift and reach the open pasture area in the Röthelmoos. At the large crossroads with carved wooden armchairs, turn right to the Langerbaueralm or left to the Dandlalm . The entire trail runs along forest roads and is suitable for prams.

Walking time: 45 minutes

Descent variant : If you prefer to discover something new instead of descending on the forest road, you can also go back to the Urschlau via the "Oven". To do this, go east at the large crossroads in Röthelmoos in the direction of Dandlalm and follow the forest road uphill into the forest. At about 1000 meters, an easy hiking trail branches off to the left, which leads down through beautiful mixed mountain forest to the Urschlauer Ache and over a bridge back to the starting point.
